SUPERVISOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Neighbor,

As I reflect on this week, one word comes to mind – CARING. Caring for our community and the residents that live throughout the Second District.

Today, we cared for those with disabilities and individuals that have challenges utilizing our public beaches. This morning we unveiled AccessMats in the City of Seal Beach that will allow everyone to access the shoreline. During the pandemic, we were reminded of the beauty within our communities and now, even more residents get to enjoy the beauty, awe, and health benefits of time near the ocean shore.

My colleagues and I proclaimed September 2021 as #HungerActionMonth in Orange County. I was proud to recognize the incredible work of organizations across the county, including Second Harvest Food Bank and Community Action Partnership of Orange County.

The pandemic has had a devastating impact – increasing hunger and food insecurity nationwide. Please join us in taking action to help families in need by volunteering and supporting your local food bank.

This Suicide Prevention Week, I joined my colleagues in resolving to raise awareness to promote mental health and take action to prevent suicide here in Orange County. The past year and a half has been difficult and many in our community have faced unprecedented challenges that have impacted their emotional and mental health. I hope everyone in our community will join us in sharing resources to help educate our family, friends, and neighbors on warning signs and how to best assist those experiencing a mental health crisis. If you or a loved one are experiencing suicidal thoughts, please call 1-800-273-TALK.

I was delighted to join the Huntington Beach Be Well Mobile Response Press Conference on Thursday to discuss this crucial and important step forward. This program will ease the burden on police and provide residents with well equipped professionals to handle mental health related calls. I spoke about how this model should be replicated County wide and that it is the County's responsibility to fund it, which is something that I am determined to accomplish.

Last weekend, we honored both 9/11 victims and survivors as well as our Orange County Olympians. Our community rallied to show our patriotism and positive American spirit. One core value of America is service. This weekend, across the State of California, we will join residents and communities to clean up our coast. JOIN US!!!

Foley right to defy supes on COVID info

When it comes to public information about how the government is operating, we take a simple approach: More is better than less. Officials should err on the side of openness, which is in keeping with the spirit of the state's open-government laws.

Unfortunately, the Orange County Board of Supervisors has been insufficiently forthright in publicizing information about the county's response to COVID-19. To counterbalance that problem, Supervisor Katrina Foley has held regular briefings via Zoom and social-media platforms. Good for her.

She has criticized the county for discontinuing its briefings since December. Now Supervisors Andrew Do and Doug Chaffee have forbidden county staff from taking part in Foley's town halls — something that Foley believes might be illegal, as the VoiceofOC reported. That seems petty.

Do and Chaffee tout the county's posting of daily coronavirus numbers and its weekly press releases and media calls. "It is an abuse of power to use county executive staff to self-promote," they wrote in a statement. There's an element of self-promotion in everything politicians do, but we don't view public-information meetings as an abuse of power.

Do's and Chaffee's restrictions on health care staff participation is the only abuse we see here. "These virtual briefings with county health officers and other experts have helped disseminate accurate health information, debunk myths and answer questions," Foley responded. We agree that town-hall events are more useful than issuing banal press releases and speaking only to reporters.

The OC Health Care Agency has done a laudable job dealing with the COVID-19 situation and has significant health care expertise. We don't see how their experts' participation in these short events detracts from their work. In fact, keeping the public informed is a core part of a health agency's mission.

"All surrounding county boards of supervisors have public updates during their respective meetings, with some holding weekly news conferences," the VoiceofOC added.

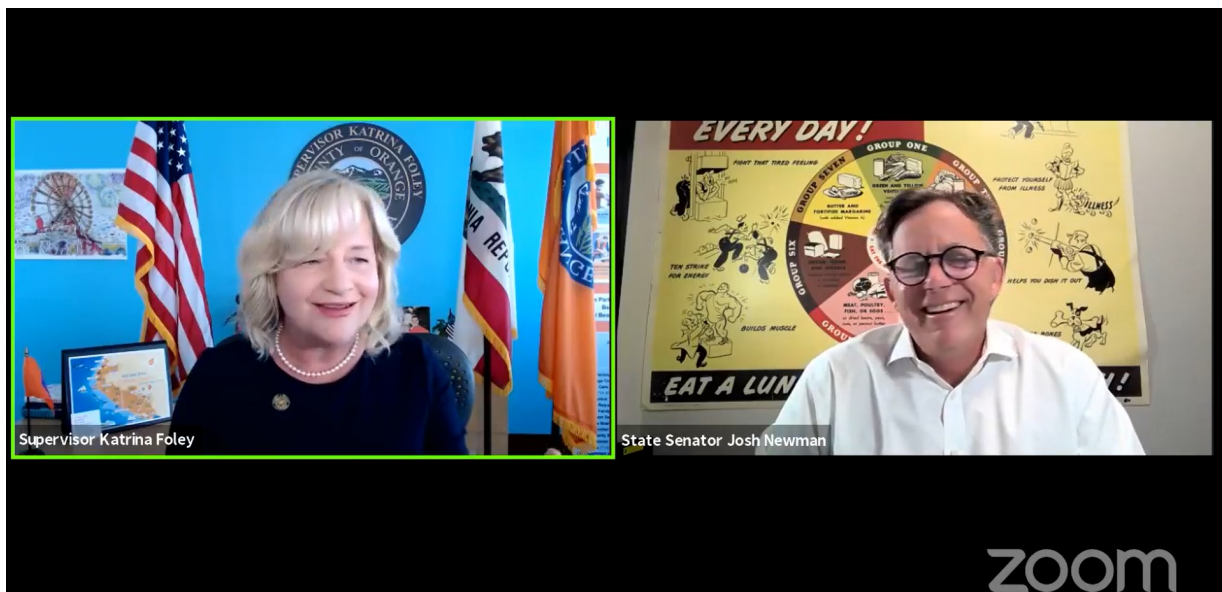

The full Orange County Board of Supervisors isn't following suit, but it should at least stop interfering with one supervisor's effort to fill that void.

DISTRICT 2 COMMUNITY UPDATES

Hello District 2!

Our office enjoyed another busy week out and about in the community. We held vaccine clinics in Newport Beach and Huntington Beach throughout the week to work towards achieving Supervisor Foley's goal of getting our community vaccinated. Please share about our vaccine clinic this Saturday, September 18th at Oak View Elementary School in Huntington Beach.

*Avery Counts
Constituent Services Manager
Huntington Beach, Newport
Beach, Seal Beach*

In addition to our vaccine clinics, we attended the 9/11 Memorial Ceremony with American Legion Newport Harbor Post 291 on Saturday morning to pay our respects, as well as the American Legion Huntington Beach Post 131 Patriot Day Ceremony on Saturday evening. We must #NeverForget the attacks on our nation on September 11, 2001. On Tuesday, our office also joined the groundbreaking celebration for the Bluff Top Improvements Project in Huntington Beach. These improvements will improve the beauty of Patriot Point off of PCH in Huntington Beach and will increase bikeability in the area. On Thursday, we joined the ribbon cutting for Paradigm Integrative Care and Wellness in Newport Beach, and on Friday joined the E3 Solutions Art-Show in Newport Beach. Also on Friday, we joined the City of Seal Beach to commemorate the opening of the AccessMats. These AccessMats will make the beach more accessible to those with wheelchairs, walking canes, strollers, and more. I am ecstatic about the addition of these mats as accessibility remains a key focus in our office. Make sure to stop by Seal Beach to see them!

Finally, I want to say thank you to our office and the entire District 2 community for the open arms and warm welcomes that I received in this role. This is my last week in the Office of Orange County Supervisor Katrina Foley, and I am so proud of the work that we have accomplished in my time here. I will remain local in Huntington Beach, so if you need to find me... check the beach! Thank you to Supervisor Foley for entrusting me with this role and always guiding me towards justice. Thank you to Mayors Kim Carr, Joe Kalmick, and Brad Avery for always being there when I needed them and for trusting me. This journey has been one for the history books and one that I will treasure throughout the rest of my career and forever. Thank you District 2, I love you!

OCTA to Save Nearly $180 million for Taxpayers with Federal Loan Reset for 405 Project & Bond Notes

SANTA ANA – The Orange County Transportation Authority has reset the interest rate to 1.95 percent on its $629 million federal loan for the I-405 Improvement Project, a first-of-its-kind reset that will help save an additional $158 million over the life of the loan.

OCTA finalized its initial loan in 2017 with a 2.91 percent interest rate through the Transportation Infrastructure Finance and Innovation Act, commonly called TIFIA.

Late last year, OCTA began working with the U.S. Department of Transportation’s Build America Bureau, the agency that runs the TIFIA program, to pay off its existing loan and execute a new one to take advantage of lower interest rates.

OCTA is the first agency to ever reset a partially drawn TIFIA loan, taking advantage of historically low interest rates to realize significant savings of $158 million on a new present value basis.

“As an OCTA Director and member of the Finance and Administration Committee, I’m proud of the work that our finance and leadership team did to save millions on interest that we can now use to allow free access to toll lanes during non-peak hours, reduce the cost of public transportation services for taxpayers, support our essential workers, and develop innovative environmentally friendly public transportation solutions.” said OCTA Director Katrina Foley, also the county’s Second District Supervisor.

The TIFIA loan will be repaid solely using the revenue collected from drivers who choose to use the 405 Express Lanes being built as part of the I-405 Improvement Project.

Toll revenue collected beyond what it costs to repay the loan will fund transportation improvements for everyone who travels through the 405 corridor – whether or not they use the Express Lanes. The interest rate savings will allow more money to be available sooner to make those additional improvements along I-405.

“Innovative financing is critical to delivering major infrastructure projects and it’s great to see OCTA lead in this area to maximize available funding and continue making improvements for everyone who lives, works and drives near the 405 Freeway,” said Michael Hennessey, Chairman of OCTA’s Finance and Administration Committee. “This effort will help create greater revenue potential for future projects in the area.”

The original TIFIA loan for the I-405 Improvement Project was estimated to save about $300 million over the life of the loan compared to traditional bond financing, allowing the 405 Express Lanes to remain free to two-person carpools during non-peak hours when the express lanes open, a commitment made by OCTA.

To generate additional savings, OCTA issued Bond Anticipation Notes, a short-term financing tool used during the construction of projects, to allow OCTA to take advantage of lower short-term interest rates over the next three years instead of drawing on its TIFIA loan. The issuance of these notes is expected to save an additional $20 million.

“Every dollar we can save Orange County taxpayers in interest, is one more dollar we can invest in our infrastructure to enhance our transportation system,” said OCTA CEO Darrell E. Johnson. “I want to thank our federal partners and all those who played a role in helping to realize these tremendous savings.”

The $2.1 billion I-405 Improvement Project, now more than halfway complete, will add one regular lane in each direction of I-405 between Euclid Street and I-605, and a second lane in each direction in the center of the freeway from SR-73 to I-605 that will combine with the existing carpool lanes to form the 405 Express Lanes.

This 16-mile segment of I-405 is one of the most heavily traveled stretches of highway in the nation, and drivers routinely face severe congestion in both the regular lanes and carpool lanes. The project, anticipated to be completed in 2023, is critical to accommodate expected employment, population and housing growth throughout the region.

PET OF THE WEEK

Meet Miss Kitty!

This sweet, sassy 2-year-old kitty was surrendered to OC Animal Care in June due to her owner's inability to care for her. Miss Kitty was adopted a month after she arrived, but her adopters soon discovered that they were allergic to cats, and she had to be returned to the shelter. This beautiful girl was adopted again, but that home did not last because Miss Kitty and their other cat did not get along. Miss Kitty was returned to the shelter after becoming a victim of circumstance for the third time, where she now resides in search of a permanent forever home.

Miss Kitty is a social butterfly who adores people. She adores treats and enjoys good brushing sessions, which help keep her tortoiseshell-colored coat in pristine condition! Miss Kitty will need to be the only cat in the house in order to receive all of the attention she requires and deserves!

Could you be the one? Please call 714-935-6848 to set up an adoption appointment with her or visit <https://ocpetinfo.com> to arrange an adoption meeting!
