OCFA Website Facelift

I'm very excited to announce a new look to OCFA's website. Thanks to the hard work of our IT Section, OCFA has a new and improved home page. We're switching over to the new home page today, but due to technical reasons, it may take 24 – 48 hours for everyone to be able to see the changes. Check it out at:

www.ocfa.org

The new home page has a more contemporary look, but more importantly, it should be easier to use and find things on OCFA's website. Our plan is to see how this new look and feel works and then work toward making changes to the rest of the website. Please explore the site and e-mail me your thoughts and/or concerns.
